To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing you this letter to vouch for Extreme Security Measure's capability of providing security for your event or on your property.

Last summer we retained their services on weekends for our overseas staff who stay on our grounds when camp is not in session. Not only were their services delivered with the utmost professionalism, they also went above and beyond to help us with some of the needs for our camp community. Need I add that their services were the most affordable out of the ones that made a bid?

At no one time have they failed us, and they have always been on time for each event, making them a reliable partner to us. Our staff felt safe knowing their presence was making a difference and that they were being cared for in vulnerable situations. Extreme Measures came to us during our training week and helped to train our staff on safety here in America in addition to providing security during weekend overnights.

What really resonated with us was getting to know the Richardson's and having them join our camp community as friends and patrons. It's clear that they treat everyone they work with as family and will act in their best interests.

If you have any additional questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to us.

Sincerely,

Alyssa Pecorino, MS
Executive Director
